Building

STARTS WITH THE Foundation

Building hope • Building relationships • Building community
For 23 years the Community Foundation of DeKalb County has had the privilege of supporting the DeKalb County community through thoughtful philanthropy. From the very beginning, the community and the Foundation made a commitment to support one another to enhance the quality of life for the residents of DeKalb County. Relationships are truly the bridge to philanthropy.

A very strong and powerful relationship exists between our community and the Community Foundation. This relationship brings about hope for so many community needs by bridging the gap to individuals who want to give and make a positive impact. The Foundation is the bridge to streamlining people who care with causes that matter. As we reflect on this twenty-third year of service, we celebrate another milestone of becoming a twenty million dollar organization through the many generous donations. This was accomplished thanks to many generous donors who have established over 100 funds with us but also includes the committed work of so many individuals.

Each year, community members serve as volunteers, make gifts, create funds and support the Foundation’s programs. At the same time, the Foundation’s Board of Directors and staff look for opportunities to engage the community in new ways and meet its ever-changing needs. These community contributions and Foundation actions show our commitment to one another. And we are proud to assist individuals, families and businesses to fulfill their charitable goals by establishing endowed funds with us for these purposes. We take stewardship of the funds very seriously by making sure they remain on in perpetuity.

We are supported in this promise of the continued support of Lilly Endowment’s Giving Indiana Funds for Tomorrow. And the efforts of this community work will continue well into 2020 and beyond. Just like any relationship, people are what make the Foundation find success. As 2019 was a year of leadership transition, we also celebrated the wonderful service of Judy Sorg as the Director of Learning Link. Judy’s past work in building relationships and supporting educational attainment will continue through the positive relationships built in DeKalb County and across the region of Northeast Indiana.

We are supported in this promise of a committed Board of Directors that included the retirement of a ten-year board member, Ian Mercer. Ian’s dedication and commitment to the Foundation has been instrumental in building a solid organization that shows the community is cared for. We also welcomed several new board members; Loraine Hartranft, Jennifer Bell, and Angie Holt. These community contributions and Foundation actions show our commitment to one another. Please enjoy this report with more detailed information about our projects and community involvement. On behalf of the staff and Board of the Community Foundation, I want to thank you for your past and current support. I invite you to contact me to learn how we can work together to accomplish your charitable goals. I am here to help you in your philanthropic efforts and create a better future for everyone. Please join us in continuing to build hope, relationships and community!
The following is a powerful statement: “The Community Foundation of DeKalb County promotes community philanthropy by offering local citizens the opportunity to create a charitable legacy that will sustain and improve life in our county.” It means that every single person with a passion for our county, regardless of status, wealth, or background, can find a way to leave a legacy. Financial gifts, of course, are what often come to mind for most, and they are the fuel that propels the good work of grants and scholarships across every corner of our county. While critically needed, legacy isn’t about donations, or grants, or scholarships. Legacy is about people, and action, and will, and determination, and causes larger than ourselves. There is no better example of this in the short history of our Foundation than Judy Sorg.

The following is a woefully inadequate statement: “Judy Sorg will be missed.” The legacy she has woven throughout Learning Link and the work of the Community Foundation can be measured in tangible and immediate ways. The support of reading readiness, early childhood education, emotional preparedness of students, the grants and activities that resulted because she put the right elements (people) in the room and let them do what they do best... build more legacies. More important; however, it is the immeasurable legacy that Judy either built from scratch or shepherded through service to others which will forever improve the lives of our citizens. Because of her leadership, others will follow.

Legacy is about people, and will, and determination, and causes larger than ourselves. Legacies take time to ripen fully. Most of us will not realize the outcomes of the hope Judy Sorg has built through Learning Link for years to come. The hope she is building in children’s hearts about their future through Promise Indiana will be recognized in future generations. Legacy builders tend to be humble and committed to a cause larger than themselves. As a friend, I hope that Judy realizes the legacy she has built here in DeKalb County. Hundreds of Learning Link and DeKalb Promise volunteers know it; the Foundation’s staff, committee members, and Board of Directors know it; and measured by the turnout at Judy’s open house to share our appreciation, our community knows it. Judy Sorg will be missed and we wish her and David the best.
Maintaining their focus on early childhood education, the Learning Link Foundational Learning Team hosted a Business and Early Learning Summit: Part 2, on October 3. This event followed an April 30 Summit featuring Dr. Tony GiaQuinta, President of the Indiana Chapter of the American Pediatrics Association, who discussed the positive impact of early learning on children’s brain development and their future success into adulthood.

The October 3 event was designed to further educate the business community to the local child care landscape, including the shortage of infant and toddler care and absence of care for children of 2nd and 3rd shift workers. Business leaders shared what they are currently doing to support their employees with young children, such as offering employees the ability to work remotely, flex-time, and taking comp time within a two-week period.

The Mother Goose on the Loose Giving Circle was created to support adult and children’s literacy opportunities in DeKalb County. In addition to awarding grants, the Literacy Fund advocates the importance of literacy to the community and encourages community members to become involved and commit resources to address literacy needs.

Every summer, the Mother Goose on the Loose Giving Circle meets for an educational or inspirational program. In years past, members have heard from authors and grantees. This year, Autumn Vandewalker, Genealogy Specialist from the Willennar Genealogy Center, spoke on their moon landing anniversary interview project. Autumn showed guests the end product of the interviews as a video, Where Were You During the First Moon Landing on July 20, 1969? Guests were excited to hear stories of where community members were and discussed what they remembered doing on that very exciting day in history.

The Giving Circle endowment fund currently has over $107,684 in total assets and over $71,343 has been granted to local literacy programs. In 2019, members awarded $4,983.39 in grants to seven of DeKalb County’s organizations for their literacy programs.

Membership in the Mother Goose on the Loose Giving Circle welcomes all donors who believe that the ability to read, write and communicate effectively are critical skills for success. To learn how you can become a member of this Giving Circle, contact the Community Foundation.
DeKalb’s VOICE is the Community Foundation’s youth philanthropy group with high school student members from DeKalb, Eastside, Garret and Lakewood Park. VOICE meets once a month during the school year to learn about the community and its charitable needs.

The group solicits and reviews grant proposals from charitable organizations and student led groups. They carefully research the requests in order to make wise granting recommendations to the Community Foundation Board of Directors.

In 2019, VOICE members awarded $11,895 to organizations such as Saint Andrew Evangelical Presbyterian Church for their foster family trainings, the Doc Coleman Landing project where families can enjoy the outdoors while picnicking and boating, and Inspiration Ministries, Inc. to help purchase mattresses for their newly purchased house.

As of 2019, the students have granted more than $107,976 back into the community! To learn more about DeKalb’s VOICE or how you can help support their endowment fund, contact the Community Foundation.

Learning Link’s Continual Learning Team provided critical support for the second annual Promise Walk Into My Future, on September 20 at Ivy Tech Fort Wayne. While there, 2,066 children in Kindergarten to grade 3 learned about careers and educational options beyond high school. The Walk Into My Future, as part of the community–wide DeKalb County Promise initiative, provides young children with exposure to a wide variety of career options through learning experiences that are hands-on and age-appropriate. Over 600 volunteers, including Continual Learning Team members, teachers, classroom chaperones, high school students, and Ivy Tech faculty and staff were on hand to ensure students were safe and experienced high quality learning opportunities.

DeKalb County career hosts taking part in the event, such as DeKalb Health (now Parkview DeKalb), Gibson’s Heating, Metal Technologies, Sweetwater, and Therma-Tru, gave children a look at career options in their own “backyards.” Examples of the career stations hosted by Ivy Tech faculty and students focused on agriculture, culinary arts, engineering, robotics, and healthcare.

Citing the importance of such an experience, Clint Kugler, co-founder of Promise Indiana, said “giving young children that personal experience of imagining they are (post-high school) students plants the seeds of dreams for their futures. It helps change children’s identities.” For more information about Promise, go to DeKalbCountyPromise.org.

FUNDS

DeKalb Memorial Hospital Fund is an endowed fund established through nearly $3 million combined gifts from DeKalb Health Foundation and Parkview Health. To ensure the endowed fund’s giving capacity and permanence, a percentage of the fund’s balance will be distributed annually to support general health and wellness across DeKalb County.

“DeKalb County has a long and rich history of charitable support of all kinds – and our hospital is one of the prime examples. This new fund assures that the Miracle of Indiana will continue to improve the health of our communities for generations to come,” said Jeff Turner, DeKalb DeKalb Health Foundation Board Officer, serving nearly 40 years.

“Both the hospital board and foundation board view this donation as a gift back to the community, who over 50 years ago, raised funds in order to make DeKalb Memorial Hospital, Inc. a reality,” added Tasha Eicher, Parkview DeKalb Hospital President. “We are excited to partner with the Community Foundation of DeKalb County to guarantee perpetuity in the promotion of health and wellness in DeKalb County. This endowment provides a mechanism in continuing our journey towards a healthy community.

Auburn Skate Park Fund is a non-permanent fund created in order to streamline giving for the Auburn Skate Park dream of by former Mayor, Norm Yoder. The park will be built on the site of the old public pool and save $150,000 by utilizing the structure. The site will include a flat ground street zone, 2 bowls and a long street area with multiple elevations. Groundbreaking is planned for March 2020 with plans for a summer opening.

Waterloo Memorial Park Fund is a non-permanent fund to support the development of the park. Multiple phases of planning including fishing pond, trails, sledding hill and dog park. $48,750 in a matching grant with the Community Development Authority.

The central purpose of a community foundation is to serve the needs and philanthropic aims of donors who wish to better their community, now and in the future. This is done by ensuring charitable giving achieves its greatest possible impact. The Community Foundation’s Board of Directors and staff would like to thank all the donors, community members, and volunteers who have helped the Foundation grow and stay committed to the community through the important work of yesterday, today and tomorrow.
